Report description:

In 2021 home care sales slowed after experiencing above average growth in 2020 due to the onset of COVID-19. Despite the popularity of traditional alternatives and high poverty levels in the country, population growth, retailing development and urbanisation are boosting home care. Low socioeconomic groups are trading up to home care from unpackaged alternatives, while mid- and high-income urbanites are buying a wider range. However, basic and multifunctional products remain the most popular.
