Report description:

E-vapour products continued to record significant current value growth in 2021. The uptrend was driven by the popularity of closed system rechargeable and cartridges. These products offer a variety of flavours and nicotine-free options that cannot be found in conventional cigarettes. Therefore, they are considered fashionable among young adult smokers. RELX, the leading brand in e-vapour products, released its 5th Generation flagship model in 2021. This latest model contains a series of new feat...
