Report description:

E-vapour products, as a product area, performed well in 2021, with a rise in value sales growth being recorded. Indeed, the vaping prevalence continues to slowly increase as consumers switch from traditional tobacco products to e-vapour products. Even though there is no scientific evidence to support this, consumers perceive e-vapour products as less harmful to human health than traditional tobacco products. Closed vaping systems are usually what people first begin with, to eventually switch to...
