Report description:

Consumer electronics in the UK is set to experience a period of normalisation in 2022, with marginal retail volume declines. This marks the first time that the local industry will experience a drop in demand since 2016, with many categories cooling off from their dynamic growth of 2020 and 2021. Such falls are not only being driven by reduced demand from consumers but also from supply issues, including but not limited to, component and labour shortages as well as rising energy and shipping costs...

Euromonitor International's Consumer Electronics in United Kingdom report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the in-home, portable and in-car consumer electronics products markets at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It identifies the leading companies, the leading brands and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market- be they new product developments, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change.

Product coverage: Computers and Peripherals, In-Car Entertainment, In-Home Consumer Electronics, Portable Consumer Electronics.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
