Report description:

Smartphones witnessed double-digit sales value growth in 2020 and 2021 despite the value of imported smartphones dropping in 2021. Volumes sales also saw growth in these years. Shipment shortages, lower production capacities from parent companies, raw materials shortages, and hiking prices were the main factors negatively impacting smartphones imports in this year. As such, a major portion of pandemic-year sales were from older models imported in 2020. In 2022, the sales volume of smartphones is...
