Report description:

Spectacles will also register double-digit value growth in 2022, making a full recovery to pre-pandemic sales levels. This performance is driven by spectacle frames and spectacle lenses, with some consumers who previously used to wear contact lenses shifting to spectacles for hygiene reasons. In addition, the increased amount of time spent staring at screens during the pandemic has led to exacerbated or new vision problems, leading to some consumers needing a new prescription and new spectacles.
