Report description:

Canada continues to recover following two years of pandemic-related decline. High rates of inflation and ongoing supply chain disruptions are driving prices of vehicles higher and public transportation has struggled to recover as many Canadians continue to work from home. Legislation, infrastructure and government investments are needed to drive progress on shared mobility, electric vehicles, and autonomous transportation.

Euromonitor International's Mobility in Canada report offers a comprehensive guide of the traditional and newly emerging mobility forms. The report is broken down into five key areas of industry research: automotive sales and ownership, electric and alternative fuel vehicles, shared mobility, public transport, and autonomous vehicles and connectivity. It provides the latest automotive sales and registration and shared mobility data over 2015-2020, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. It assesses the strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they legislative, consumer lifestyle or economic. Forecasts in the reports are available to 2025.

Product coverage: Car Traffic Volume, Distances Travelled by Mode of Transport, Electric Charging Stations, Fuel Prices, Light Vehicle Sales, Shared Mobility, Vehicle Production, Vehicle Registrations, Vehicles in Use.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
