Report description:

Pre-COVID-19, health-orientated trends were already strong in Poland, with consumers were checking the labels to identify the nutritional values of products. This behaviour will only strengthen in 2022, as health consciousness lingers in the aftermath of the pandemic. This rise in health-consciousness has naturally hampered the sales performance of sugar confectionery, as few items in this category offer beneficial nutrients. As such, retail volume growth will decelerate in 2022.

Euromonitor International's Sugar Confectionery in Poland report offers in-depth knowledge of the market at a national level, providing local insight and understanding unavailable elsewhere. In addition to the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, it identifies the leading companies, brands and retail outlets, and assesses the key trends and demographic shifts behind consumer demand and sales growth.
