Report description:

Following the commencement of nationwide vaccination across all ages in late December 2020, residents in Singapore have responded positively to related public health campaigns, with a fully vaccinated rate of 87.8% as of April 2022. The use of over-the-counter systemic analgesics to cope with post-vaccination fever and other uncomfortable conditions was recommended by the local government and medical doctors. In particular, leading brand Panadol was recommended as an effective analgesic and anti...
