Report description:

Passenger cars continues to be impacted by the shortage in semiconductors. Electric cars and autonomous vehicles are gaining ground slowly, but prices are too high for the average consumer, and they lack proper investment in infrastructure. Shared mobility, in its turn, is still reliant on car-hailing solutions, but those are affected by high fuel prices. Most COVID-19-related restrictions in Brazil have been lifted, hence, use of public transportation is back to normal standards in most cities.
