Report description:

The sodium bicarbonate market in Middle East & Africa is expected to grow from US$ 80.96 million in 2022 to US$ 97.77 million by 2028. It is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 3.2% from 2022 to 2028.

The growing focus on the treatment of industrial pollutants is the key factor driving the growth of the Middle East & Africa sodium bicarbonate market. The volume of wastewater discharged into the environment has become a genuine concern with rapid demographic changes, economic developments, urban growth, and increased population density. The disposal of untreated or poorly treated wastewater pollutes natural environments, and the repetitive discharge can be catastrophic for biodiversity and water resources. To address these issues, regulations on water quality have been tightened to protect the environment. There is a high focus on following the best wastewater management practices at national and local levels. As cities are growing, there is a growing focus on reusing wastewater. Sodium bicarbonate is an important material used to control pH, alkalinity, and purification processes in water treatment facilities.

Various industrial activities lead to elevated air pollution levels with adverse effects on human health. Governments worldwide are involved in planning the correct strategies to improve air quality. Sodium bicarbonate finds application in the treatment of acidic flue gases. Flue gas treatment revolves around reducing the quantities of pollutants emitted when fossil fuels are burnt at a power plant, an industrial facility, or any other place. Thus, a growing focus on the treatment of industrial pollutants is predicted to offer
