Report description:

In 2022, overall consumer electronics demand has slowed in the Canadian market, with retail volume sales set to be essentially flat year-on-year. Consumers have allocated spending to services as COVID-19 related restrictions have eased and reduced spending generally due to the high rate of inflation and economic uncertainty. Supply chain issues lingered into 2022 due to COVID-19 lockdowns in China negatively impacting production. However, companies that had expanded operations outside China were...
