Report description:

June 2022 saw Ecuadoran society descend into pandemonium as a national strike and civil unrest spread throughout the country. The nation was consumed by protests that lasted for 18 days, while many commercial sectors were crippled by industrial action, including the travel and tourism industry. While all of the country's airports continued to operate as normal, more than 100 flights were cancelled during the 18 days that the protests and strikes were at their peak. Many of these flights had to b...
