Report description:

Dietary supplements witnessed a return to growth in current value terms in 2022, but this increase was purely driven by the strong increase in the average unit price for this category. Due to a significant increase in production costs, including the rising price of energy and ingredients, manufacturers and retailers have been forced to raise their prices.

Euromonitor International's Dietary Supplements in Netherlands report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth. Forecasts to 2026 illustrate how the market is set to change.

Product coverage: Combination Dietary Supplements, Herbal/Traditional Dietary Supplements, Non-Herbal/Traditional Dietary Supplements.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
