Report description:

A new variant of COVID-19, Omicron, emerged in South Korea towards the end of 2021. In early 2022, the number of confirmed cases was at its highest. As a result, the travel industry did not see any notable increase in demand in Q1. However, starting from 1 April 2022, travel restrictions for entering South Korea were eased, with fully vaccinated visitors no longer required to quarantine. After one month, the requirement to quarantine was removed for all inbound arrivals regardless of their vacci...
