Report description:

Wound care is a category that is highly dependent on consumers' ability to participate in sport and physical activities. The fact that during the pandemic it was often not possible for consumers to participate in, for example, sporting events, holidays or days out, had a negative impact on the development of this category. Sales saw a partial recovery in 2021 as restrictions started to be eased and this recovery has continued in 2022 as consumers return to their pre-pandemic lifestyle habits, in...
