United States (US) Meat and Livestock Market Summary, Competitive Analysis and Forecast, 2017-2026

Summary

Meat & Livestock in the United States industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market share, market size (value 2017-21, and forecast to 2026). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

Key Highlights

- The meat and livestock market is defined as animals reared worldwide for consumption purposes.
- The US meat and livestock market had total revenues of $90.7 billion in 2021, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 0.7% between 2016 and 2021.
- Market production volume increased with a CAGR of 1.9% between 2016 and 2021, to reach a total of 47.4 million tonnes in 2021.
- The COVID-19 pandemic has had a mixed effect on the US meat and livestock market. Nationwide lockdown restrictions have caused disruption to supply chains and business productivity, causing a slowdown in production volume. However, this has placed an upwards pricing pressure on meat products such as beef and pork, boosting the value of the market.
