Report description:

Processed fruit and vegetables was impacted by issues around packaging supply and costs and rising prices in general. The supply of aluminium and metal witnessed a shortage in 2022, alongside increasing prices for these materials. In November 2021, an explosion occurred at an aluminium factory in Yunnan province, China. This caused a complete stop in production for the factory, which has an annual production capacity of 300,000 tonnes, and further exacerbated the supply shortage of this material...
