Report description:

Lebanon's economic and social breakdown continued to influence sales of staple foods in 2022 as currency devaluation and high unemployment meant severe pressure on spending power. The lack of a reliable electricity supply makes it impossible to store perishable food, which has had a mixed impact on staple foods. Supply chain disruptions due to the Ukraine conflict, the difficult monetary situation in Lebanon and widespread civil unrest have led to product shortages and fewer brands available.

Euromonitor International's Staple Foods in Lebanon report offers in-depth knowledge of the market at a national level, providing local insight and understanding unavailable elsewhere. In addition to the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, it identifies the leading companies, brands and retail outlets, and assesses the key trends and demographic shifts behind consumer demand and sales growth.
