Report description:

Baked goods and bread saw increasing sales during COVID-19 restrictions, with consumers in Finland spending more time in the household, eating breakfast and lunches. Having meals and snacks within the home has continued in 2022, however, retail volume sales are in decline as the competition from foodservice rises. Despite this, current retail value sales remain buoyant, impacted by increasing unit prices and inflation.

Euromonitor International's Baked Goods in Finland report offers in-depth knowledge of the market at a national level, providing local insight and understanding unavailable elsewhere. In addition to the latest retail sales data 2017-2021, it identifies the leading companies, brands and retail outlets, and assesses the key trends and demographic shifts behind consumer demand and sales growth.
