Report description:

As restrictions have eased in India over 2022, the local population has resumed daily routines, including spending greater time outside of the home and participating in some sort of physical activity. Moreover, as an outcome of the pandemic, heightened health consciousness amongst local consumers is encouraging them to take up some form of exercise in 2022, including outdoor activities such as trekking. As a result, the potential for minor accidents is growing, resulting in a greater need for ba...
