Report description:

Disruptions related to the COVID-19 pandemic have contributed to a variety of global economic issues. Supply chain disruptions and increased costs for inputs such as raw materials, labour, and transportation have forced many manufacturers to raise retail prices. Eggs have also faced this inflationary pressure, and the prices of eggs significantly increased in 2021, which is also set to continue in 2022. Higher prices is one of the driving factors behind the expected declines in retail volume sal...
