Report description:

The biggest influences on sales of hot drink in 2022 were high inflation and the devaluation of the dinar. While consumption in the most popular category of tea was not hugely affected as tea is still affordable for most, steep unit price rises undermined demand for coffee, especially in the on-trade. Suppliers have been striving to maintain price stability whilst investing in better distribution. A recovery in demand for coffee is expected due to population growth and spreading affluence.
