Report description:

After a difficult year in 2020, packaging volumes of metal aerosol cans and squeezable plastic tubes used for sun care products improved over 2020-2021. This was because offices, schools, and other public places reopened in 2021, and tourists started to return to the country. As the United Arab Emirates is a hot country where UV radiation is high, consumers needed sun care products. This aided the growth of the category in 2021, and therefore benefited the associated packaging formats. The reope...
