Report description:

In 2022, unit prices of juice rose above the rate of inflation. The cost of raw materials such as fruit increased significantly alongside energy (natural gas, petrol, electricity) and packaging. On balance, the cost of production increased by 20-30% in 2022 leaving many juice producers struggling to maintain profit margins. Thus, producers increased prices by up to 10-20% several times during the year. To maintain profitability, producers are cutting back on marketing expenses, investments and s...
