Report description:

The arrival of the pandemic gripped local consumers with fear, with the lockdowns and worries about running out of essential items making people stock up on food products. For example, this resulted in strong demand for packaging unit volumes of metal food cans to store shelf stable seafood in 2020. However, as COVID-19 restrictions were eased in 2021 and home seclusion was no longer a norm, and hoarding of supplies saw a sharp decline. Furthermore, people grew tired of cooking all their meals.

Euromonitor International's Processed Meat and Seafood Packaging in United Arab Emirates report offers insight into key trends and developments driving packaging across the category. The report also examines trends and prospect for various pack types and closures: metal packaging, rigid plastic, glass, liquid cartons, paper-based containers; flexible packaging.
