Report description:

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19 in 2020, New Zealand closed its borders, except for a short-lived "travel bubble" with Australia in 2021. This "travel bubble" allowed a couple of months of travel between the two countries, before additional outbreaks in both Australia and New Zealand led the borders to be closed once more. New Zealand also briefly opened a "travel bubble" with the Cook Islands in 2021, but this was also soon closed.
