Report description:

Recovery began in booking in 2021, which saw a rise from the previous year's pandemic slump. However, many travel restrictions still remained in 2021, especially for leisure travel, which suffered stricter restrictions than business travel did. Substantial recovery for booking was kickstarted in March 2022. Prior to this month, the benefits were seen primarily by bigger players recouping lost sales from 2020. But from March 2022 industry players noted a more across-the-board rebound in booking.
