Report description:

The strong moves towards a cashless society in Malaysia, pushed by the government and private actors, such as retailers, and accelerated by the experience of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, provided a further boost to the use of card payments as replacements for cash payments in 2022. The Malaysian government has announced the use of cashless payments in many of its departments, including public hospitals and immigration services, which stimulated the greater use of card or e-wallet payment...
