Report description:

Home care in Georgia was positively affected by economic recovery in 2022. The war in Ukraine led to a growing amount of investment in the Georgian economy, which has stabilised the local currency and exchange rate. Nevertheless, high inflation, and the rising costs of logistics and raw materials, has led to strong price increases in home care. While current value sales has witnessed double-digit growth in 2022, higher prices have forced consumers to economise and trade down in many categories .

Euromonitor International's Home Care in Georgia market report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level.
