Report description:

Self-service cafeterias remained the smallest channel within consumer foodservice in Egypt in 2022 in terms of foodservice value sales and the number of outlets. The "do it yourself" trend has yet to penetrate Egyptian culture, with consumers still preferring to be served when dining out. While self-service restaurants registered some growth in 2022 in terms of value sales and number of outlets, it registered the lowest constant value growth of all consumer foodservice formats.
