Report description:

As the country reopened from the pandemic in the latter part of 2021, demand for away-from-home tissue recovered. This was driven in large part by the return to in-person classes at schools and other institutional settings, professionals returning to the office, the re-opening of restaurants, bars, and other similar venues, along with a robust recovery in tourism. Consequently, away-from-home tissue categories saw growth returning in 2021 with sales largely normalising in 2022 amid a return to p...
