Report description:

Rx/reimbursement adult incontinence declined in volume sales for a further year in 2022. As the Dutch government tried to reduce high spiralling costs in health care, rules and regulations surrounding health care services became more restrictive. This resulted in fewer patients receiving Rx/reimbursement adult incontinence products. Whilst the costs generated by fewer patients were declared or accepted, the quality of adult incontinence improved over the years. As a result, the cost per declarat...
