Report description:

KEY FINDINGS

The North America anti-acne dermal patch market growth is estimated to progress at a CAGR of 7.59% during the forecast period, 2023-2032. The presence of key players is an important factor contributing to market growth. Also, US-based brands like Hero, Peter Thomas Roth, and ZitSticka sell at major retail stores, including Target. However, the market growth is hindered by the destigmatization of acne and the rising support for the skin positivity movement. This is because such movements encourage acceptance and confidence among people regarding their skin.

MARKET INSIGHTS

Canada and the United States are evaluated for the North America anti-acne dermal patch market growth analysis. In Canada, 5 million or almost 20% of the population is affected by acne, as per the Acne and Rosacea Society of Canada. This majorly encompasses teenagers and young adults. The other risk factors contributing to acne prevalence among young adults and teenagers are lifestyle changes and urbanization. Also, they are at risk of endangering their mental health due to the psychological burden of acne. These range from low self-esteem issues to depression. Such factors facilitate growth opportunities for anti-acne derma patches. Another major factor contributing to the anticipated market expansion is the rise in disposable incomes.
