Report description:

Hypermarket sales continued to grow in 2022, but to a lesser extent than seen during the strong performance they achieved during the pandemic. During the period of the strictest COVID-19 related restrictions, hypermarkets players benefited from being amongst the few retailers that were able to stay open and operating thanks to the fact that they sell essential products, including food. However, the situation has gradually returned to normal since the end of 2021, after the easing of the restrict...

Euromonitor International's Hypermarkets in Peru report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
