Report description:

In 2022, sanitary protection in Germany saw record-breaking current value growth, after only marginal growth in 2021. This was largely due to price rises as a result of the higher costs of raw materials and production. In fact, the reopening of stores was met with record-breaking inflation in 2022. Nevertheless, marginal growth was also recorded in volume sales in this year, partly motivated by extra purchases to be sent to Ukrainians affected by the war.
