Report description:

At the beginning of the pandemic in 2020, vending was amongst the biggest losers in retailing in Finland. Already marginal in size (vending is the smallest retail channel in the country) vending heavily depends on people being active, moving around and shopping, as vending machines are typically located in places such as transport hubs, train and metro stations and shopping centres. During 2020-2021 due to the pandemic people moved about little in vending-friendly locations, thus there were few...

Euromonitor International's Vending in Finland report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers.
