Report description:

The retail industry in Japan performed well in 2022, with current value sales already fully recovering to pre-pandemic levels the previous year. However, this differed across the channels, with overall value sales through retail offline remaining just below 2019 levels, while the number of outlets continued to decline. However, the dynamic performance of retail e-commerce offset the weaker recovery of sales through physical stores.

Euromonitor International's Retail in Japan report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Product coverage: Retail E-Commerce, Retail Offline.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
