Report description:

In 2022, home and garden witnessed a strong slowdown in its growth rate in current value terms, and a decline in sales at constant 2022 prices. This was underpinned by the diminishing of the pandemic-induced spending splurge and the consumer appetite for creating a comfortable living environment. Macroeconomic uncertainties such as rising interest rates and inflation also acted as a dampener on growth, moderating consumer interest in home and garden products.

Euromonitor International's Home and Garden in Australia report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of market demand at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (historic date range), allowing you to identify the categories driving growth. It also identifies the leading companies and their brands, and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing demand - from new product developments, consumer lifestyles, route to market and pricing issues.
