Report description:

After a year of decline in 2021 during the worst impact of the pandemic, in 2022 depilatories saw a return to current value growth, as activities outside the home resumed in the country as the pandemic eased - people went out more often to meet friends, and paid more attention to grooming, including hair removal. Even though there are a number of spas offering laser hair removal services, even for those who use such services efficacy is not 100%, and some hair growth still remains, therefore als...
