Report description:

The home and garden industry in Switzerland experienced a decline in value sales (at constant prices) in 2022, compared to pre-pandemic levels. One of the primary reasons for this decline was the country's inflation rate, which stood at around 2.8%, while Switzerland typically experiences an inflation rate below 1%. This inflation rate increase led to a decrease in consumer spending, particularly on non-essential items, such as home and garden products.

Euromonitor International's Home and Garden in Switzerland report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of market demand at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (historic date range), allowing you to identify the categories driving growth.
