Report description:

Home and garden in Brazil saw a marked acceleration in current value growth in 2022, with a double-digit increase. However, a significant proportion of this growth can be attributed to rising inflation and price increases caused by higher materials and logistics costs, in addition to supply chain issues. Brazil's inflation rate stood at 9.3% in 2022, which was below the Latin American average of 15.2%, but still exerted pressure on consumers' incomes. Consumer confidence, however, improved marginally.

Euromonitor International's Home and Garden in Brazil report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of market demand at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (historic date range), allowing you to identify the categories driving growth. It also identifies the leading companies and their brands, and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing demand - from new product developments, consumer lifestyles, route to market and pricing issues. Forecasts to 2027 illustrate how market demand is expected to evolve in the medium-term.

Product coverage: Home Improvement and Gardening, Homewares and Home Furnishings.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
