Report description:

Market Overview:

The North America fruit juice market size reached US$ 37.7 Billion in 2022. Looking forward, IMARC Group expects the market to reach US$ 50.0 Billion by 2028, exhibiting a growth rate (CAGR) of 4.7% during 2023-2028.

Fruit juice is a liquid which is naturally procured from fruits. It can be extracted by either mechanically squeezing or macerating the fruits. Fruit juice provides instant energy and refreshment to the consumers. Moreover, as it is rich in vitamins, minerals, antioxidants and offers anti-inflammatory properties, it helps in boosting the immune system of humans. On account of these benefits, there is a rise in the demand for fruit juices in North America.

The North America fruit juice market is currently being driven by several factors. The rising health-consciousness has shifted the consumers from carbonated drinks to natural beverages, such as fruit juices, in the region. This can also be accredited to the assistance of fruit juices in improving metabolism and reducing cholesterol. Furthermore, the handy packaging of fruit juices has enabled their easy consumption, thus supporting the hectic and sedentary lifestyles of the consumers in the region. Apart from this, the technological advancements, such as the introduction of organic preservatives, has provided a positive impact on the regional as well as the global fruit juice market.
