Report description:

Home insecticides continued to see strong and stable growth in retail volume terms in 2022 with sales seeing a limited impact from the pandemic. However, growth did slow slightly in 2022 which was likely due to economic pressures brought about the high inflation seen in Pakistan and its impact on the cost of living. Additionally, with COVID-19 fears subsiding and restrictions being lifted consumers spent less time at home and thus used home insecticides less frequently.
