Report description:

The compressor rental market was valued at USD 4.4 billion in 2022 and is projected to reach USD 6.2 billion by 2028, at a CAGR of 5.8% between 2023 and 2028. Uncertainty in raw material prices act as a restraint to the growth of compressor rental market.

"Based on end-use industry, the construction segment is expected to lead the compressor rental market"

Based on end-use industry, the construction segment is projected to dominate the compressor rental market from 2023 to 2028. The growth can be attributed to the global infrastructure development, commercial building projects, residential construction, and urbanisation which are driving the expansion of the construction industry. Construction companies can acquire the necessary equipment through the rental of compressors without having to make a capital investment, freeing up funds for other crucial components of the project.

"Based on compressor type, rotary screw segment to grow at the highest CAGR between 2023 and 2028"

The key end-use industries of rotary screw compressors are construction, mining, and oil & gas. Because they are built for continuous use, rotary screw compressors offer a dependable source of compressed air. In rental applications where a reliable and uninterrupted air supply is crucial, this feature is quite helpful. Rotary screw compressors are used extensively in the industrial, construction, and mining sectors to continually power numerous pieces of machinery and operations. This propels market growth of this segment.

"Asia Pacific dominated the compressor rental market in 2022"

Asia Pacific was the largest market for compressor rental in 2022, due to the growing infrastructure and industrialization
