Report description:

Volume declines continue in computers and peripherals in 2023, after the boost seen during the pandemic era due to home lockdowns and working-from-home trends. Indeed, there was a dramatic rise in the number of people working from home and using technology to stay in touch with family and friends. As such there was a high uptake in online services such as Zoom and Skype, along with consumers updating their computers and peripherals to enhance their online entertainment activities, and/or gaming,...
