Report description:

Wearable electronics continued to see positive growth in volume terms in 2023, albeit at a slower rate than the previous two years. This was driven by a number of factors, not least the health and wellness trend, which was facilitated by COVID-19. Wearable electronics, such as fitness trackers and smartwatches, are becoming an increasingly popular choice for consumers who wish to monitor metrics, such as steps taken, calories burned, heart rate, and sleep quality, among others, in order to help...
