Report description:

During the review period, consumers across South Africa became more aware of the importance of leading healthy lives. This trend was facilitated by the COVID-19 pandemic which gave them more time to reflect on their lifestyles. Such a development gave rise to an increase in daily physical activity, including going to the gym and exercising at home, as well as following a healthier diet. This subsequently resulted in growth in volume sales of wearable electronics across the country, with more pro...
