Report description:

Retail sales of wound care products saw a fairly static performance in volume terms in 2023, continuing the trend of the previous year. This was in spite of the resumption of pre-pandemic lifestyles, including a return to work, school and outdoor activities, which might have been expected to lead to an increase in the number of minor injuries. Growth was tempered by the difficult economic context, which caused consumers to reduce their spending, especially on items that were not considered to be...
