Report description:

Wound care is projected to post by far its fastest retail volume growth rate of the review period in 2023, as well as its highest retail value (constant 2023 prices) growth since 2020. The category performance has benefited from the lifting of Coronavirus (COVID-19) restrictions on consumer movement and retailing. Wound care is seeing an upturn in demand as consumers continue to transition back to pre-pandemic activities that tend to create minor injuries, such as recreational sports, backyard g...
